

JOJOBA HILLS

SKP RV RESORT

An active 55+ RV community in the heart of Southern California's wine country

*Jojoba Hills was the dream of a group of senior RVers who joined together to build a co-op park over 30 years ago.
Today, our members keep their dreams alive!*

Building the dream

Jojoba Hills was the dream of a group of RVers, who enjoyed traveling together and wanted to create a community for themselves.

In 1989, these visionaries purchased land in a mountainous area. Together they designed and built an RV park that fulfilled their every wish. With a general plan, they sculped a park of rare beauty, adding ponds and streams, trees and vegetation.

For each of the 283 RV sites, they poured concrete pads and built storage sheds.

Then they turned their attention to the heart of the community: Friendship Hall. Here, they built a large dining, party and meeting room with a commercial kitchen, and individual rooms for sewing, crafts, card games, billiards, gym, and library. The complex surrounds the pool, spa and patio, which are set before a breathtaking mountain panorama.

Our founders' vision continues to fulfill the dreams of active senior RVers and visiting Escapees of all ages.

Fulfill your dreams!

Jojoba Hills has all the amenities you would expect of an RV resort. What sets Jojoba Hills apart is its spectacular rural setting with spacious RV sites. Most sites have views (some of mountains, some of ponds, some of gardens) and all can be personalized to residents' tastes, with gazebos, furniture, plantings and artistic concepts.

Additionally:

- The natural high desert habitat and waterways attract a variety of wildlife.
- Mature landscaping, including trees and foliage, plus ponds and waterfalls, create a high desert oasis.
- RV sites come with full hook-ups including cable TV, Internet, telephone line and a 12-by-8-foot shed.
